

What does the term "gender gap in financial literacy" mean?

That women and men have exactly the same financial knowledge

Differences in financial knowledge and behaviors between men and women

That only women need financial education

That men are better at managing money by nature

Which factor contributes to women's lower lifetime income and pensions?

Greater incidence of part-time work

Higher salaries in management roles

More access to STEM careers

Lower life expectancy

What is one main cause of the gender economic gap?

Personal spending habits

Unequal access to education

Career interruptions, part-time work, and underpaid sectors

What is "financial violence"?

Spending too much money without permission

Controlling someone's access to money and financial decisions

Refusing to talk about money in relationships

Why is financial independence important for gender equality?

It ensures freedom of choice and reduces risk of dependence in old age

It eliminates the need to save for retirement

It makes financial literacy less important

It guarantees equal wages immediately